"This program, has been approved for 26 (General ) recertification credit hours toward PHR, SPHR and GPHR recertification through the HR Certification Institute."

(FIH) is designed to develop a basic understanding of Industrial Hygiene terminology and principles. Through lecture, workshops, case study and equipment demonstrations, participants build their ability to address workplace health issues.

"The use of this seal is not an endorsement by the HR Certification Institute of the quality of the program. It means that this program has met the HR Certification Institute's criteria to be pre-approved for recertification credit."

The Advanced Safety Certificate

(ASC) is the National Safety Council's program for the development of safety professionals. Those who earn it can be justifiably proud of their accomplishments. It places them a cut above others in the field and tells their top management that they are better able to develop and implement an effective safety and health program. The ASC targets skills that increase compliance with regulatory standards, improve productivity and enhance employee participation in the safety and health process. Those who earn the ASC are better able to provide other employees with training needed to make a safety and health program work, and fulfill their responsibilities as part of management.
