OUR MISSION:

To Educate & Influence People to Prevent Accidental Injury & Death

Established in 1923, the Chesapeake Region Safety Council (CRSC) is a private, non-profit, non-governmental public service organization whose mission is to provide the safety training and education that will reduce disabling injuries and save lives.

We serve businesses and citizens throughout the Mid Atlantic Region, serving as a chapter of the National Safety Council, the premier safety organization in the United States. The CRSC is also the lead organization in the Mid Atlantic OSHA Training Institute Education Center.

Every year, we train more than 15,000 people in safety practices proven to protect life and promote health, and provide consulting services to companies and organizations throughout the Mid Atlantic region.

Over 900 companies find that membership in the Council is a solid investment that reduces lost time and property damage, increases productivity and - of greatest importance - protects employees and their families from the devastating consequences of accidental injury and death.

Members of the Chesapeake Region Safety Council automatically become members of the National Safety Council, with access to its greater resources and receive substantial discounts on National Safety Council products and programs.

Members also receive another benefit - the peace of mind that comes from creating a safer, healthier environment for employees and customers.

ANNUAL MEETING & SAFETY AWARDS:

Welcome from our President: Dave Madaras

"We're safety people, we can handle this." The safety profession is constantly faced with dangerous challenges. The year recently past has been especially challenging. Safety by its nature is an essential component of our existence. Many safety pros were called to step up to the plate assisting their teams as they mitigated the pandemic. Outcomes varied for those who contracted the virus, but I am 100% confident implemented safety actions made a difference. Our work isn't, and honestly, is never done. Keep learning and applying your expertise. You are making a difference!

Dave Madaras, CSP, CHST,
President, Chesapeake Region Safety Council
